

Stream Box S2 Ultra

„...a nifty little product with lots of applications.“

Manufacturers of components like the Stream Box say that their products are engineered specifically for audio, and so have sonic advantages over general-purpose computers. With Pro-Ject's USB Detox feature you can have your cake and eat it, too. Overtones were richer, and the overall sound was less glary and harsh. USB Detox opened up orchestral textures and spaciousness.

Conclusion

Pro-Ject's Stream Box S2 Ultra is a nifty little product with lots of applications. Pair it with a compact USB DAC like Pro-Ject's Pre Box S2 and you have a very nice, small-footprint digital source for streamed and locally stored music.

Read more at <https://www.soundstagesimplifi.com/index.php/equipment-reviews/67>